

Stove

Posted At : January 17, 2013 12:00 AM | Posted By : Scott

Related Categories: General

Same neighbor bought a new cooktop to replace the 1960's model that was there.

Unfortunately, measuring things wasn't part of their plan.

So when I went to install it for them, it basically fit through the original opening.

No problem! Cut a sub-panel and laminated it w/ black formica to deal with the problem. Came out awesome.